WESTON, Feb. 29, 1884.

REPORT OF THE SELECTMEN AND OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

During the first month of the year the Almshouse was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Otis H. Penniman, who had served the town for the past ten years, and who left April 1st, 1883. We then secured the services of Mr. and Mrs. Elhanan W. Russell, whom we would gladly have retained ; but on account of Mrs. Russell's health, they were obliged to leave at the end of nineteen days—at which time Mr. and Mrs. David Pierce took charge, and have continued during the year. At the beginning of the year there were six inmates. Mrs. Dudley, from whom the town had received board for a number of years, became a dependent on the 1st of March ; Frank B. Nelson, aged 27 years ; John White, aged 76 years, who died March 27th ; Susan A. White, aged 76 years ; Robert H. Percell, aged 10 years ; Herman Percell, aged 8 years ; July 17th, admitted Joseph Fabyan. Present number, six.

220 tramps cared for at the Almshouse during the year.

ROAD COMMISSIONERS.

The regular appropriations for the past year have been expended as usual, in different parts of the town, a detailed account of which in this report would be superfluous, as the items will be found in the Auditor's report.

During the past season, the causeway wall and part of the culvert over Russell brook, near Boyce's, on North Avenue, fell in, necessitating relaying and partly new covering stones; likewise the bridge over Stony Brook, on the old road near N. L. Sibley's, has in conjunction with the town of Waltham been rebuilt. These items have added materially to the expenses the past year. Several small culverts have been relaid, and others badly need relaying, as we regard drainage to be very essential if we would have good roads.

The special appropriations have been expended so far as within our power. Concord Street has been widened and graded, near the Central Railroad; the hill in front of Mr. John Warren's house cut and graded, adding much to the appearance of the street, likewise to that of Mr. Warren's premises. Viles Street has been widened most of the way to a width of from 22 to 30 feet, and settled will be as good a grade as the rise of the hill will allow.

Egypt hill, so called, on Glen Road, near Jennings's, has not been touched, owing to Wellesley not being ready; lying as it does in two towns, neither one can work alone to advantage, without the co-operation of the other. We have the assurance of Wellesley authorities that it shall be attended to the coming season.

Owing to unexpected delays beyond our control, the work on Church Street has not been commenced. The County Commissioners have defined the lines and set the bounds, and a short time since issued their order. As soon as the weather and soil will permit, the work should be commenced and prosecuted with vigor.

We again call your attention to Forest Street. The Central Railroad shows but little more signs of life, if any, than for some time past. "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," but we do not yet abandon all hope; we believe that road will at some future time meet the expectations of its friends. Nevertheless, aside from the Central Railroad, Forest Street is decidedly the roughest road in town; it is narrow, contracted, emphatically a one track road. From Church Street to North Avenue there is scarcely a place where two carriages can pass without extreme caution. The brush has been cut throughout its length, but only to make the roadway more hideous, revealing the rocks, boulders and banks which formerly they concealed, and served in part as a screen or railing for the street.

We recommend an appropriation for Forest Street.

It is an old saying, but none the less true because it is old, that "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty;" so with our roads, if we could so grade them that they would not wear out soon, we could have such as to be proud of; but the unceasing wear, especially on our main avenues, requires continual watchfulness and care.

In conclusion, we would say that we are gratified in seeing an awakened interest among our citizens in regard to highways. We hope it will continue, and that one and all will see the advantages to be gained in unity, rather than in spending our time and strength in personal and sectional strife and animosity.

The thanks of the town are due to Gen. Paine, for the generous gift of a roller for highway purposes.

The subject of Newton Street is reserved for a special report.

Respectfully submitted by

ALONZO S. FISKE,	}	Road Commissioners.
BENJ. F. CUTTER,
MARSHALL L. UPHAM,

REPORT ON NEWTON AND EAST NEWTON STREETS.

At our last annual meeting it was voted,

That the Road Commissioners be requested to confer with the Boston and Albany Railroad, and with the land-holders, and report at the next annual meeting, what should be done for the alteration of Newton and East Newton Streets, together with an estimate of the expense.

In accordance with that vote, we have conferred with the authorities of the Boston and Albany Railroad, and they have stated that it is not their intention to lay a third track across East Newton Street at present.

We therefore recommend that action in regard to that street be deferred for the present.

In regard to Newton Street, we have conferred with the abutters, with one or two exceptions, and those it would but slightly affect. They have all met us pleasantly, and expressed a willingness to give their land wherever necessary, to increase the width of the street to 35 feet, provided the Town will do the fencing.

Although as individuals, in view of the future, we would prefer a width of 40 feet, yet we have no doubt that a street of lesser width, with the line fences brought to a grade corresponding with the grade of the road, a travelled way of 25 feet, well graded and all obstructions between the lines removed, so as to allow of the safe and convenient passing of carriages, would be amply sufficient to meet the demands of the public for many years to come.

Therefore, in deference to what we know to be the feeling of the abutters, and to what we believe to be the sentiment of the majority of our citizens, we recommend that the Road Commissioners be instructed to widen, straighten, and define the lines of Newton Street to a uniform width of 35 feet, wherever practicable.

In regard to expense, there are some ledges where more or less blasting will be necessary, and until the lines are determined and the ledge uncovered so as to have a better view, any estimate of cost would at the best be but guess work. But we would recommend a grant of $2,000, to be expended in widening, grading and fencing Newton Street, to commence at the junction of Newton and Ash Streets, working towards South Avenue, doing the work, as progressed, in a finished and workmanlike manner, until the sum is expended.

Respectfully submitted by

ALONZO S. FISKE,	}	Road Commissioners.
BENJ. F. CUTTER.
MARSHALL L. UPHAM,

REPORT ON GUIDE BOARDS.

Guide-boards are maintained at the following places, viz. :

At the junctions of North Avenue and Lexington Street, North Avenue and Church Street, North Avenue and Lincoln Street, Concord and Merriam Streets, Concord and Sudbury Streets, Central Avenue and School Street, Central Avenue and Crescent Street, Central Avenue and Wellesley Street, Wellesley and School Streets, Wellesley and Newton Streets, Newton and Ash Streets, South Avenue and Wellesley Street, South Avenue and East Newton Street, South Avenue and River Street, River Street and Loring Place, Winter and Brown Streets.

We do not think it necessary to maintain them at other places. We recommend that the Selectmen be instructed to offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons who shall take off or in any manner deface, mutilate, or destroy any guide-board, street sign board, or in any way in an unlawful manner injure the same.

REPORT

Trustees of Cemeteries.

The Trustees of Cemeteries submit the following report for the year ending March 1, 1884.

In Linwood Cemetery beside the usual work of keeping it in order there has been considerable work done in filling and grading near the entrance.

Four lots have been sold the past year, making the whole number sold 34.

Whole number of interments, 49.

In the Centre Burial Ground many of the stones have been reset, requiring considerable labor and time.

In the other burial grounds the usual amount of labor has been done.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The school has been taught during the past year by Mr. Dana M. Dustan, of Peterboro', N. H. Mr. Dustan is a graduate of Dartmouth College. He has had some four years of experience as an instructor, and came among us with excellent recommendations from parties that we knew. The progress of the school for the past year has given unmistakable evidence that the choice of the present Principal was very wise. The discipline has been kind, firm, impartial and morally elevating. The building has been constantly looked after, and measures adopted so that it should receive no unnecessary defacement.

The High School being in a room by itself for two terms, has been a relief to the teacher. More of his time has been given to his legitimate work, and his own school has received more benefit of his experience and talent in imparting instruction than under the former arrangement. Effort has especially been made to assist the scholar to utilize his knowledge by writing essays.

The pen has been in use in some manner much of the time during the year. In the varied study of English literature there is offered a wide scope for the use of the pen, as well as for the intellect and imagination. The scholars have been allowed to perform experiments in physics, unassisted by the teacher. This has awakened an interest in this branch of science that has been very gratifying. The study of physical geography was entered upon with considerable hesitation and trepidation. But its general principles were very happily mastered, and very gratifying progress was made by the class. The daily newspapers cannot now be read understandingly without some knowledge of this branch of study, which is constantly being perfected.

The talent for singing in the school is fair. No extra expense has been incurred in teaching this art. The teachers have in all our schools done good service in this branch the past year. Those who cannot sing themselves have encouraged their pupils to cultivate this talent. We hope the High School will take renewed interest in music, and make the most of their talents in this line of disciplining themselves for usefulness.

We are happy to know that our older scholars are availing themselves of the Town library. Under the direction of the Principal, standard books that have remained upon the shelves for years unread, are now sought with eagerness and studied with profit. This is what we have patiently sought to accomplish. We appreciate the time taken and the patience shown by the librarian, in co-operating with the Principal in introducing our scholars to books containing the best thoughts of the most able and efficient authors.

All our schools are now taught by teachers who have had years of experience, with one exception, and she has had the advantage derived from a Normal School. Those who have had charge of schools can appreciate the benefits which accrue from accomplished and tried educators. It pays to retain their services.

The interest which the parents have manifested in the High School is highly appreciated by the teacher and Committee. We hope to see their hearty co-operation continue, for the effect is very quickly felt by the scholars. The large number of friends present on the day of graduation, completely filling the spacious hall, shows the large place which the High School has in their hearts. The manner in which the exercises were enjoyed, and the commendation expressed in regard to the manner in which the class acquitted themselves, is appreciated by those who have labored to educate them. The present indications are that the school will be larger in the year to come than for some time past. We regard the school in a good condition, and the future very encouraging.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL.

Miss ABBIE C. FISKE, Teacher.

Under the care of the present teacher this school has enjoyed a year of unusual prosperity. It never was larger nor possessed more mental ability since its organization. If permitted to pursue their course of study, we shall be greatly disappointed if we do not see the scholars taking high rank. Hard and persistent work has been done during the year, and the results are exceedingly gratifying to your Committee. Special notice should be made in reference to the amount of writing that has been done, in the line of compositions and subjects from history given to the scholars, and they writing impromptu all they knew on these subjects as soon as announced. The attainments of the school have in this important branch met with deserved approbation, both by parents and Committee.

The school is also fortunate in having one who has created a very decided interest in singing. Under her inspiration the knowledge gained in the Primary schools in this science has not been allowed to remain unemployed. We hope that we may see the school brought still more under the elevating power of music, taking a deeper interest in the cultivation of the vocal organs than ever before.

The school for two terms has been by itself, and the experiment has very plainly shown that the pupils have profited by the change. Better order has been secured, and increasing interest manifested in the studies by the scholars. The entire responsibility of the school has been left with the teacher during school hours. This is as it should be; and if there is success, or failure, we can very easily determine the cause. The arrangements, when perfected, for the accommodation of both schools in separate rooms in the same building, we have reason to believe will be admirable.

The course of study requires two years. The school is therefore divided into two classes. The studies embraced in the course are arithmetic, geography, grammar, U. S. history, reading, writing compositions, spelling, and declamations. With average ability, good attention and persistent effort, there is reason to expect that an excellent preparation may be made for admission into the High School. If the scholars are permitted to pursue the course of four years in the latter school, in the judgment of your Committee the youth of our town ought to have a general and practical education sufficient for the common duties of life.

Miss ELLEN M. JONES, Teacher.

It is with pleasure that we are able to report the continued services of the present teacher. Thirty-four pupils, so very young as the most of them are in this school, require much tact in governing and a love to teach minds of such grade. With the co-operation of the parents good discipline has been maintained. The material for an efficient school is above the average, and we have reason to believe that it is being moulded and directed in the right manner. Special mention should be made of the proficiency in writing by the smaller pupils. It is plain, symmetrical and practical.

There seems to be a cheerful and pleasant spirit pervading the school-room. Some of the scholars already have given evidence of marked ability in singing. This exercise is coming to be a striking feature in this school, and its moral effect is very apparent. We trust the parents during the coming year will try, and if possible have their children at school early. This will have a beneficial influence on all the pupils, and cheer the heart of the teacher.

With this condition of the school as above represented, we have reason to hope for success during the next year.

Miss LILLIE I. DUNN, Teacher.

This school has been under the care of the same teacher for eight years. The advantages derived thereby are of great value. Frequent changes are apt to demoralize a school and the desired results are not realized. The present year has been one of decided success. The scholars, though as an average are quite young, have given commendable attention to their studies, and afford ground to hope that, under the present impetus and discipline, they will do excellent work in the future.

Some of the more advanced scholars have left town, and their presence is missed, and their influence in creating enthusiasm for study is felt by the school. The discipline and moral tone of the school is healthy. It is a pleasure to visit them and witness the cheerfulness and hopefulness that is seen in the countenances of all. The singing is spirited, and the attention given to drawing has been rewarded with success. The room having been recently painted affords a cheerful place for the scholars to study. The present outlook for the school is very hopeful.

Miss IDA A. GOULD, Teacher.

We are pleased that we can report a small growth in number this year, and the prospect of still farther increase in the coming year.

The public examination of this school must have satisfied all who were present, that a good work had been done in the year then closing, and we think that on any day, public or—but all days are public in our schools, and the doors are always open, and those who enter here will find the same work going on, year in and year out. Need we say more for this school? It needs no words of praise; it speaks for itself, and results justify the work.

The complaint we now have to make goes beyond the school-room. In a school of 23 in number, 62 tardy marks are a great deal too many for ordinary, or for any reason whatever; and the remedy, like charity, must begin at home. Tardiness and absenteeism work untold injury to the discipline of a school.

Miss ANNE C. COBURN, Teacher.

We need not say that this school maintains its position in the regard of its immediate friends. The long list of parental visitors, the oft-repeated visits of its former pupils to the loved scene of their past strivings and successes, mean this ; but the crowds that fill every nook and corner on its closing days, and the kindly interest in its work outside its immediate circle, all speak in plain terms of the radiating influence of a bright example of well directed labor.

A kind Providence has spared it from untimely loss, and the wasting sickness has not visited it during the past year. Its numbers have been well maintained ; and if a great class goes out, the following lines close in, and the ranks fill up in unbroken succession.

We should not omit to mention the good results of the attention given to singing in this, as in the other schools, and the efforts of the teachers have been met by the ready response of the scholars, as was shown in one school where the teacher, who not a singer, yet by a little tact in using the talent of some specially gifted scholar, did very good work.

It affords us great pleasure to be able to report another year of continued growth and prosperity. There has been quite an increase in the membership of the school, which has added not only to its working force, but also to the enthusiasm of the pupils, stimulating them to greater activity and more persevering study, which are indispensable to success in the school-room.

While there has been commendable progress in the several branches of study, the marked improvement in reading deserves a more than passing notice. Viewing the year as a whole, we feel that the work accomplished has been very satisfactory. We are informed that an addition of ten or twelve pupils is expected next term. The outlook for this school is very promising.

Miss CLARA F. STIMPSON, Teacher.

The year's work here has been good. There has been a great reduction in the membership of the school, occasioned by the removal of several families. We hope the parents will give due thought to the importance of the punctuality of their children.

The exercises on the closing day were of such a character as to prove most conclusively the efficiency of the teacher, and the faithfulness of the scholars. The organ has been repaired during the year, and is not only ornamental, but useful in aiding the scholars in singing, which is a very important and cheerful feature in school work.

We trust the disadvantages at this school, which cannot be fully obviated without an increase of scholars, will be recognized and regarded with due allowance.

From the appropriation under Item 2, we drew heavily for the repairs of the rooms of schools No. 4, No. 2 and No. 3, also some smaller jobs of painting in rooms of Nos. 5 and 6.

This year the room of No. 1 school must be painted, and the roof of the No. 4 building must be shingled, and some essential work too long neglected must be done outside.

We hope the town will give us the special appropriation for the purchase of school books, and $300 should be sufficient for the year. We believe that the experience of the last two years proves that this expenditure has worked for the best interests of teachers and scholars.

Report of the Library Committee.

The Library Committee respectfully submit the following report for the year ending Feb. 29, 1884 :

Two hundred and sixty-one books have been added to the library during the year — 228 by purchase, and 33 by gift.

Whole number of books taken out during the year, 8,070.

Donations of books and pamphlets have been received from the following sources, viz : Mrs. C. J. Paine, Mrs. D. S. Lamson, Mrs. Horatio Hews, Hon. Theodore Lyman, Mr. Herbert Merriam, Col. D. S. Lamson, Mr. F. H. Hastings, Gen. W. B. Hazen, Mr. E. A. Jones, State of Massachusetts, Cobden Club, London, Bureau of Education, American Unitarian Association, Public Libraries of Boston, Lancaster, Wayland and Southbridge.

The picture of Daniel Webster in the library room was the gift of H. S. Milton, Esq.

(For financial exhibit see Treasurer's report.)

The books have mostly received careful usage during the past year, and are in good condition ; but with the best of care they will wear out, and more or less rebinding has to be done every year ; and we have the past year disposed of a large lot of worn out books and worthless trash for paper stock.

The library continues to be well patronized. Books have been taken from the different departments in about the usual proportions. In numbers fiction takes the lead, as usual. This is always so in all public libraries ; but let it be remembered that books of fiction are mostly very small, requiring but little time to read, are generally read for amusement, and are often returned to the library unread, if the opening chapters do not prove interesting. Whereas the books of the other departments not only average very much larger, but are of a more solid character, and taken out with a definite purpose of learning something of the subject of which they treat; therefore they take up much more time. In fact one could go through with several novels in the time that it would take to read understandingly one of the larger histories or works of science. Hence it will be seen that the number of books taken from the public library ought not to be taken as an unerring criterion by which to judge of the amount of time spent in reading, or of the intelligence and culture of a community.

In the purchase of books we have kept the educational needs of the young steadily in view, and it is gratifying to know (as is indicated by the increased and increasing use of the books by the pupils of the schools, in connection with their studies), that the library is fast taking its proper place as a part of the educational system of the town.
